Message from the Chairperson

Dear Residents,

November is a special time of year at Kings Point. The weather begins to cool, more of our seasonal residents return, and our community comes alive with renewed energy. Clubhouses become busier, activities fill the calendar, and neighbors once again have more opportunities to gather, reconnect, and enjoy everything Kings Point has to offer.

With Thanksgiving approaching, November also gives us an opportunity to pause and reflect on the many things we have to be grateful for. Here at Kings Point, there is certainly much to appreciate. From our beautiful grounds and recreational facilities to our golf courses, pools, clubs, theater, fitness programs, and countless activities, our community provides wonderful opportunities to stay active, engaged, and connected.

As more residents return for the season, please remember that our community will become increasingly active. With additional traffic, events, and activity throughout Kings Point, patience and consideration for our neighbors are especially important. A friendly greeting, a little extra courtesy, and a willingness to look out for one another help make our community stronger.

This Thanksgiving, may we all take time to appreciate the people and places that make Kings Point special. Whether you are celebrating with family, gathering with friends, or enjoying a quiet holiday at home, I hope the season brings you happiness, good health, and meaningful moments with those who matter most.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, thank you for your continued support, involvement, and pride in our community. We are grateful to be part of a community where neighbors become friends and where there is always something new to enjoy.

Wishing all of our Kings Point residents and their families a very Happy Thanksgiving, filled with friendship, laughter, and many reasons to be thankful.

Warm regards,

Artie Simon

PARKING LOT SAFETY

Many people drive or walk in a parking lot on a daily basis. We often let down our guard and overlook the hazards that we face when doing so. Surprisingly, one in five vehicle accidents in the United States occur in parking lots. Often drivers and pedestrians are distracted in parking lots. With eyes increasingly on smart phones and not paying attention to where one is headed, this lack of focus increases our risk of collision and injury. Below are safety tips for both pedestrian and drivers to follow when in a parking lot:

Pedestrian Safety:

- Be cautious and aware of your surroundings when walking in a parking lot, and put your mobile device away to avoid distraction.
- Do not assume that drivers can see you when you can see them. In many cases, the pedestrian sees and hears a vehicle before a driver can see the pedestrian due to blind spots in vehicles.
- Treat the parking lot like a street. Look both ways before crossing, use crosswalks, and use sidewalks whenever possible.
- Walk down the parking lots aisles and not in-between vehicles when walking to and from your vehicle.
- Try to avoid areas where it would be hard for a driver to see you, for instance in loading dock areas. Try to walk in groups when in a parking lot, which is more visible to drivers.
- Prevent a slip/fall injury by avoiding stepping on painted lines in wet weather. Also, wear appropriate footwear to provide adequate traction in winter wet weather conditions.

Driver Safety:

- When looking for a place to park, it is generally safer to park further away where there is less pedestrian and vehicle traffic.
- Whenever possible, avoid moving in reverse and pull all the way through the parking space. If you cannot, now is the time to back into the space, which is safer than backing out of a space.
- Drivers of motorcycles and bicycles are to follow the same traffic rules as drivers of vehicle. All vehicles need to obey stop signs.
- Slow Down! The speed limit is 10 mph in the parking lots. Any faster speeds may result in a fatal injury to a pedestrian.
- Reduce speeds in bad weather. In wet weather, vehicles have a higher chance of skidding.
- Turning off the radio and cracking your windows can be helpful to hear noises that can help you prevent a collision.
- Keep your mobile device out of sight and out of hand to avoid distraction.

Visit our Safety SharePoint Page!!!

Did you know that 25% of collisions in parking lots occur when a driver is moving in reverse?

Avoid Backing:

Drivers are limited in their ability to see and react to hazards when moving in reverse.

Ideally, avoid backing out of a space by pulling through when parking.

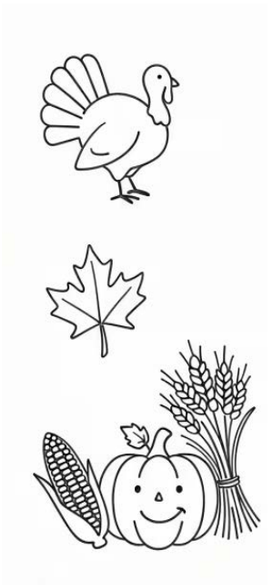

When a pull-through space is not an option, back into a space when parking. At this time you have better control and view of the area.

If you must back out of a parking space, walk around the vehicle before getting inside, crack the window and tap the horn before moving slowly in reverse, keeping your eyes focused for moving vehicles or pedestrians nearby.

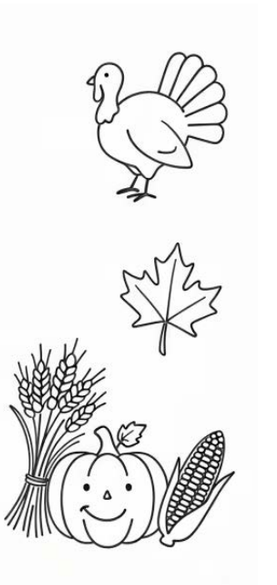

Parking Garages:

Parking garages are often more difficult to drive and walk through safely due to limited clearance and visibility. Use extra caution in a parking garage.

Our November Recommendation: The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry by Gabrielle Zevin

As November arrives, it's the perfect time to slow down, get comfortable and enjoy a good book. With Thanksgiving just around the corner, this month's recommendation is a heart-warming story that celebrates family, friendship and the unexpected ways our lives can change.

The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry by Gabrielle Zevin

What happens when an unexpected turn of events changes everything you thought you knew about your life?

The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry follows A.J. Fikry, a somewhat grumpy bookstore owner living on a small island. After experiencing a series of personal setbacks, A.J. finds himself becoming increasingly isolated. Then, one surprising discovery—and the people who enter his life because of it—begin to change his outlook in ways he never imagined.

Filled with humor, warmth and plenty of heart, the novel explores the power of books to bring people together and reminds us that it's never too late for a new chapter.

Why We Recommend It

A celebration of books: Anyone who loves reading will appreciate the many references to stories and the role books play in our lives.

A story about connection: At its heart, the novel is about relationships and the people who can unexpectedly become part of our lives.

Heartwarming and uplifting: It offers plenty of emotion without being overly heavy.

A reminder about new beginnings: Sometimes the best chapters of our lives are the ones we never planned.

A Perfect November Read

November is a month that encourages us to appreciate the people around us and reflect on the moments that make life meaningful. The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry fits perfectly with that spirit.

So, grab a comfortable chair, make yourself a cup of coffee or tea, and turn the page. You may discover a story that reminds you just how powerful a good book—and a good community—can be.

Moving forward, all newly issued IDs will be in the horizontal format. The fee for the revalidation will be $60. This requirement applies to owners and approved occupants only. Wishing all our residents a safe, happy and wonderful Thanksgiving.

Hi neighbors,

Finally a new season, Fall is upon us!

The trends of fashion are here, scarves as belts scarves as ties, lots of BIG costume necklaces and earrings, colors trending blue, brown, cherry red and of course our standard black.

Lets not forget, Thanksigiving!!!

We may not be able to ignore the challenges that are upon us, prices soaring, instability galore. Overlooking all of that, its a holiday where food is shared, laughter is abundant, and love prevails. A time to reflect on what to be grateful for, as an individual have you ever looked in the mirror and contiplated thanking yourself and appreciating your accomplishments or overcoming challenges that got in your way. Lets appreciate our family and friends but most of all begin being kind to ourselves.

I would like to thank all the staff that contribute to running this immense community, from the cleaning staff to the sherifs and everyone in between. Happy Thanksgiving to all our neighbors near and far.

Seville President

GOLF NEWS

Season Is Here!

November marks the beginning of the busy golf season at Kings Point, and with more residents returning to the community, the courses are getting busier. It's a great time to get out and enjoy a round with friends, but it's also important to plan ahead when scheduling your tee time.

New Rates Begin November 1st

Please be aware that new rates for golf, memberships, and bag storage will take effect November 1. Current rates and additional information can be found online or when booking through the tee sheet.

Beginning November 1, no-show fees will also be in effect. In addition, a credit card will be required when booking a tee time for everyone. These policies are designed to help manage tee time availability and ensure that as many golfers as possible have the opportunity to play.

Plan Ahead for Your Tee Time

The season is HERE! With increased demand, tee times are expected to become scarce, so golfers are encouraged to plan ahead and book as soon as their booking window opens.

Please remember the following advance booking guidelines:

Groups: May book 7 days in advance
Members & Residents: May book 5 days in advance
Non-Residents: May book 2 days in advance

With more golfers on the course, please be courteous to your fellow players by booking only the times you intend to use and canceling as soon as possible if your plans change.

November is a wonderful time to enjoy golf at Kings Point. The weather is becoming more comfortable, old friends are returning, and the fairways are once again filled with golfers enjoying the game we all love.

So grab your clubs, plan ahead, and make your tee time count. Here's to a fantastic golf season filled with great rounds, good friends, and plenty of time on the course!

See you on the fairways!

PROFILE OF A

SHERIFF'S DEPUTY

DELRAY BEACH • FLORIDA

District 4 Deputy Sheriff: Jason Tooker

Growing up in the suburbs on Long Island New York, I dreamed about becoming a soldier and a police officer, luckily I have been blessed to have done both.

I joined the Army at 17 years old where I trained as a combat medic. Upon completion of my military service, I worked in various fields that included medical, auto mechanics, landscaping and cooking, which continues to be a passion of mine today.

In 2004 I moved to Florida and began my career with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office as a parking enforcement specialist at Palm Beach international Airport. That entry level parking enforcement position enabled me to get sponsored by PBSO to attend and graduate the law enforcement academy class 134 at Palm Beach State College where I was awarded the top marksman award.

My road patrol assignments have included the cities of South Bay, Belle Glade, and the village of Royal Palm Beach during which time I spent 3 years as a SWAT Hostage negotiator. My new home here in District 4 has me acting a contract relief and community policing. My relief duties allow me to frequently work in Kings Point where it has been a pleasure to get to know the residents and staff at Kings Point..

Regards,
Deputy Sheriff

Helpful Smartphone Features Every Senior Should Know

Your smartphone can do much more than make calls and send texts. Today's phones are packed with features designed to make everyday life easier, safer and more convenient. Here are a few helpful tools every senior should know about.

🚨 Emergency SOS: Help When You Need It Most

One of the most important features on a smartphone is Emergency SOS. Whether you have an accident, experience a medical emergency or simply feel unsafe, your phone can help you quickly contact emergency services.

On many smartphones, you can activate Emergency SOS by pressing the side or power button several times or by holding specific buttons. Depending on your phone and settings, it may automatically call 911 and can also alert designated emergency contacts with your location.

Take a few minutes to set it up:
• Add emergency contacts to your phone.
• Make sure your emergency information is current.
• Learn exactly how Emergency SOS works on your particular phone.
• Practice the steps so you'll know what to do in an emergency.

📍 Share Your Location

If you're meeting family, traveling or simply want someone to know where you are, your smartphone can share your location with a trusted contact. This can be especially helpful if you're having trouble finding your way or need someone to locate you.

🔍 Make Your Screen Easier to Read

Struggling to read small print? Both iPhones and Android phones allow you to increase text size, screen magnification and display contrast. You can also adjust brightness and use features designed to make the screen easier on your eyes.

🔦 Your Phone Is a Flashlight

Need a little extra light finding your keys, walking to your car or checking a dark corner? Your phone's built-in flashlight is just a swipe or tap away.

📞 Set Up Medical Information

Many smartphones allow you to store important information such as emergency contacts, allergies and other medical details that can be accessed from the lock screen without unlocking the phone. This information can be valuable to first responders.

💡 A Little Preparation Goes a Long Way

The best time to learn these features is before you need them. Ask a family member, friend or tech-savvy neighbor to help you review your phone's safety settings. Spend a few minutes exploring your smartphone—you may discover that the device you carry every day can be one of your most useful tools for staying connected, independent and safe.

GET TO KNOW

Shaibre Holland,
Box Office Supervisor

Behind the Scenes of Kings Point Entertainment

For many Kings Point residents, the Box Office is the starting point for an exciting evening of entertainment, but there is much more happening behind the scenes than simply selling tickets. Shaibre Holland, Kings Point's Box Office Supervisor, helps keep the Box Office running smoothly while also playing an important role in events and entertainment throughout the community.

A Delray Beach native, Shaibre celebrated 10 years with Kings Point last September. Her background in effective customer service and working closely with different departments has helped prepare her for a position that requires organization, communication and, above all, a commitment to making sure residents have a positive experience. She also enjoys planning and decorating for community parties and events.

As Box Office Supervisor, Shaibre oversees the daily operations involving the Box Office, gate access, main phones and shows. She also assists the Clubhouse Manager, helps resolve resident concerns and participates in planning and decorating for Kings Point events.

A typical day can include answering phone calls, printing tickets and working with the IT department on software ideas, issues and suggestions. And while residents may see the finished product when they attend a show or event, the preparation begins much earlier. According to Shaibre, work for many shows and events typically begins as much as a year in advance.

Behind the scenes, the team is constantly brainstorming new ideas to advance technology and create wonderful memories for Kings Point residents. During busy ticket sales and events, Shaibre takes a simple approach: assist customers one at a time while making sure each person receives the best possible customer service.

The Box Office's busiest time is open sales, when tickets for the upcoming season become available. For residents hoping to see a popular performance, Shaibre has one important piece of advice: book your tickets in advance.

One of Shaibre's favorite parts of her job is interacting with Kings Point residents. She enjoys hearing the positive stories they share and getting to know the unique personalities that make up the community.

Outside of work, Shaibre enjoys spending time with her children, reading, writing and enjoying a day at the beach. She also loves all types of music. And residents may be surprised to discover that despite appearing to be a very social person, Shaibre says she is actually quite shy.

Looking toward the future, Shaibre is excited about seeing the amazing talent that continues to come to Kings Point. She also welcomes resident feedback and ideas that could help improve the Box Office experience.

Her message to residents is one of openness and fairness: if you have an idea that could make the Box Office better, she encourages you to share it. At the same time, she and her team are committed to doing their best to ensure that everyone is treated fairly and equally.

With a decade of experience at Kings Point, a strong focus on customer service and a genuine appreciation for the residents she serves, Shaibre Holland helps make the Box Office much more than a place to pick up a ticket, it's an important part of the Kings Point entertainment experience.

Brittany UPDATES

A Thanksgiving Message from Brittany Association

As Thanksgiving approaches, the Brittany Association would like to extend our warmest wishes to all of our residents, their families and loved ones. We hope your Thanksgiving is filled with happiness, good health and wonderful memories.

Living in Brittany is about more than simply having a place to call home. It is about the neighbors we greet each day, the friendships we build, and the sense of community we share. Throughout the year, we see so many examples of residents looking out for one another, lending a helping hand and taking pride in making Brittany a welcoming place for everyone.

Thanksgiving gives us an opportunity to slow down and appreciate those things that sometimes get overlooked in the busyness of everyday life. We are thankful for our wonderful residents, for the friendships that have grown within our community and for everyone who contributes in big and small ways to making Brittany such a special part of Kings Point.

For many of us, Thanksgiving also means welcoming family and friends into our homes, sharing favorite traditions and enjoying a delicious meal together. For others, it may be a quieter holiday spent with neighbors or friends. However you celebrate, we hope you take a moment to appreciate the people who make a difference in your life.

As we enter the holiday season, let's continue the spirit of kindness and gratitude that makes our community so special. A smile, a friendly hello or a helping hand can go a long way—and those small gestures are what help make Brittany feel like home.

From our Brittany family to yours, we wish you a very Happy Thanksgiving filled with love, laughter, good health and cherished moments with those you hold dear.

FROM WHERE I SIT!

Time for a "Community Service Corps"

Seymour Brotman Capri D - Executive Director Emeritus
Jewish Federation of Northeast Pennsylvania

We often hear from parents, grandparents, teachers, and friends that many young people today, despite growing up with advantages previous generations never had, seem less aware of responsibilities and challenges beyond their own lives. While the majority are thoughtful and hardworking, many others appear absorbed in personal interests and social media. We also witness troubling behavior such as disrespect, reckless driving, substance abuse, and even violence involving easily available weapons. Most young adults live constructive lives, but many have little exposure to the realities faced by people outside their own communities and experiences. This does not mean they are uncaring but the life they live often gives them few opportunities to become involved helping others or understanding the wider world.

Many parents and educators express concern whether young people are learning values and life lessons necessary for increasingly difficult times. Those who grew up during wars, economic hardship, or national sacrifice often developed a deeper appreciation for responsibility, gratitude, and service because they experienced hard times firsthand.

A similar concern existed during the presidency of John F. Kennedy. Kennedy and his brother-in-law, Robert Sargent Shriver, created the Peace Corps, which sent thousands of young American college graduates abroad to help people in developing nations. Those volunteers encountered poverty, hardship, and cultures very different from their own. In doing so, many gained maturity, compassion, and a stronger sense of purpose. Many later became leaders in business, education, public service, and politics.

Today, some people, including myself, believe our nation could benefit from a modern version of that spirit of service. Not a military draft, though military service is an honorable choice, but a mandatory two-year Community Service Corps following high school. This would place graduates in hospitals, schools, environmental projects, elder care, community improvement efforts, disaster relief programs, and organizations serving people in need. Reasonable exemptions could be made for health, financial hardship, or family responsibilities. The purpose would be growth for young people who would gain firsthand understanding of how others live and struggle. They would learn discipline, teamwork, patience, and compassion while contributing something meaningful to society.

My parents related living through the Great Depression and I, personally, experienced World War II rationing, blackouts, shortages, returning wounded soldiers, Gold Star banners in windows for those lost and uncertainty about the future. People appreciated what they had because they knew hardship. Thankfully, today's younger generations have largely been spared such national suffering. A Community Service Corps could help bridge that gap. It would encourage young people not only to think about their own futures, but also about the needs of others and importance of contributing to society. Such an experience could again produce adults not only successful, but compassionate, informed, and willing to help build stronger communities.

It is time to encourage a new generation to look beyond themselves and recognize there is a larger world that needs their talents, energy, and concern. In helping others, they may discover how meaningful and important is their life by helping provide better life for others.

LEAVING YOUR KEY FOB IN YOUR VEHICLE IS A GREAT IDEA....

.....FOR CAR THIEVES!!

DO NOT LEAVE YOUR KEY FOB INSIDE YOUR VEHICLE

Car thieves are aware of this act of "convenience" and will steal your vehicle. Even if you live in a gated community, thieves are now gaining access to private developments and are checking for unlocked vehicles....

If found unlocked, not only can your vehicle be stolen but Identity Theft and home burglaries can occur once the thief is inside your vehicle by obtaining your personal information....

BE AWARE that your vehicle may alert the thief it is unlocked by the position of its side mirrors or the courtesy chime if the key fob is present inside the vehicle....

November in Kings Point: A Time for Gratitude, Remembrance and Community

November brings with it a wonderful mix of meaningful traditions, important dates and opportunities to come together as a community. As the year begins to wind down, it is a time to pause, reflect and appreciate the people and traditions that make our community special.

The month begins with the end of Daylight Saving Time on November 1, when we turn our clocks back one hour. It's also a good reminder that the holiday season is just around the corner and that there is plenty to look forward to in the weeks ahead.

Election Day is November 3, an important opportunity for American citizens to participate in the democratic process.

On November 11, Veterans Day, we take a special moment to recognize and thank the veterans in our Kings Point community and throughout our nation. Their service and sacrifices have helped protect the freedoms we enjoy, and Veterans Day gives us an opportunity to express our sincere gratitude.

Then comes one of November's most cherished traditions — Thanksgiving. It is a time for family, friends, good food and, most importantly, gratitude. The tradition dates back to 1621, when Pilgrims and Native Americans gathered for a harvest celebration and shared a festive meal. Today, Thanksgiving continues to bring people together around the table and remind us of the many blessings in our lives.

And, of course, the day after Thanksgiving brings Black Friday, when shoppers begin searching for holiday bargains. For many, it also signals the official start of the Christmas season and the excitement of holiday decorating, shopping and celebrations.

ICA Community Update

The Independent Condominium Association of Kings Point, Inc. (ICA) will not hold its regular meeting in November. Because the meeting date fell on Election Day, the November meeting was moved to the end of October.

Looking ahead, the ICA is already preparing for 2027, including arranging speakers for the January through June meetings. The association looks forward to continuing to welcome members of the Kings Point community to its monthly meetings and providing opportunities for residents to stay informed and engaged.

As we enter this special time of year, November gives us plenty of reasons to be thankful, for our families and friends, for those who have served our country, and for the wonderful community we share here in Kings Point.

From all of us at the ICA, we wish our Kings Point neighbors a happy, healthy and meaningful Thanksgiving season!

A QUIET REWRITE OF THE LAW BEHIND EVERY ASSOCIATION

By Peter S. Sachs, Esq.
Sachs Sax Caplan Kaskel & Schner, PLLC
Founding Partner, Community Association Attorney

Most of the condominium news of the past five (5) years has been loud: Surfside, structural inspections, reserve studies, special assessments. This year's most far-reaching change for community associations arrived quietly, and most residents have never heard of it.

On July 1, Florida's nonprofit corporation law received its most comprehensive overhaul in decades. The bill, HB 797, passed the House and Senate without a single dissenting vote and renamed Chapter 617 of the Florida Statutes the Florida Nonprofit Corporation Act.

Corporate law matters because nearly every community association in Florida is a nonprofit corporation, from the individual condominium associations in Burgundy, Normandy, and Saxony to the Recreation Corporation that publishes this magazine. While the Condominium Act (Chapter 718) tells a condominium association what they must do, Chapter 617 governs much of how all nonprofit corporations must operate.

Clearer Duties for Officers

The new law adds an express standard of fiduciary conduct for officers, including a duty to inform. An officer who learns of material informa tion about the association, a material violation of law, or a breach of duty by someone acting on its behalf is expected to bring it to a superior officer or to the board.

Conflicts of Interest

When a director has a personal stake in a transaction, the process to follow is now spelled out. If the conflict is properly disclosed and a majority of the disinterested directors approve, the transaction is presumed valid, and anyone challenging it must prove it was unfair. If the board skips those steps, the burden shifts, and the interested director must prove the transaction was fair. The lesson is simple: disclose early, record it in the minutes, and let the directors without a stake in the matter decide.

When Owners Have Concerns

HB 797 also sets out a more detailed process for the rare situation in which a member believes the corporation's leadership has caused the corporation serious harm and will not act. The member must first make a written demand on the corporation and give it the opportunity to respond; the law goes on to govern how any resulting claim is investigated and resolved. For cases of genuine misconduct, such as fraud, the law also gives courts clearer authority to act.

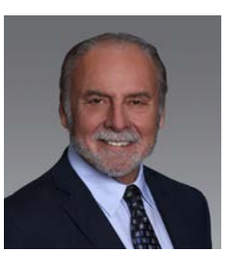

These provisions are meant for serious wrongdoing, not for the ordinary disagreements about budgets, landscaping, or pool rules that every community has. In my years of experience practicing community association law, I have found that most concerns are best resolved by asking questions, attending meetings, and talking with each other. The new demand requirement reflects that same concept: the people responsible should always have the chance to address a concern first.

Who Is the Member?

The law also confirms that a corporation's articles or bylaws cannot eliminate a member's statutory right to inspect its records; however, it is worth understanding who the members are. In your own condominium association, you are a member, and you also have strong inspection rights under the Condominium Act. In a community-wide corporation, such as the Recreation Corporation here, membership is defined by its articles of incorporation and bylaws and consists of the condominium associations rather than the individual owners. In such a case, your voice in that corporation generally runs through your association.

What Comes Next

Not every provision applies to every association, and boards should review with counsel how the new law interacts with the Condominium Act. One common housekeeping item: many bylaws still cite statute sections that HB 797 repealed or renumbered.

For residents, there is nothing to file and no deadline to meet, but your governing corporation's rules have changed. Good governance has always depended on honest dealing, open books, and neighbors willing to listen and understand and sometimes speak up. This summer, the Legislature wrote more of that into law.

How Global History Shaped the Modern Condominium

The Florida Condominium Act of 1963 was the legislation that enabled Floridians to live in their own space and enjoy the shared amenities that come with condominium living. There is a lot of history that leads up to the development of the condominium lifestyle.

Collective ownership over shared land and structures existed in Ancient Rome and Medieval Europe however, the legal framework to govern those developments did not exist. For example, there was no central management and lack of rule enforcement.

Fast forward to 1934 United States. Under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the National Housing Act of 1934 established the federal framework for mortgage insurance, housing finance, and created the Federal Housing Administration (FHA). These were all attempts to stabilize the housing finance market that collapsed during the Great Depression. The condominium housing style was not included in this legislation.

The term “condominium” comes from the Latin “com” meaning “with” or “together” and “dominium” meaning “right of ownership” or “dominion.” Literally, the term means “joint dominion” or “co-ownership.”

In 1961, Congress passed the National Housing Act of 1961 which allowed the FHA to insure condominium mortgages. This legislation allowed the FHA to back 30-year mortgages with low down payments which made condo ownership more financially viable. Subsequently, this housing style became popular and states began drafting legislation to reflect the federal law. Puerto Rico, a United States Territory, had already passed the first modern statute in the United States, the “Horizontal Property Act of Puerto Rico.” This created a template for individual unit ownership paired with shared common areas which was used to draft the Florida Condominium Act of 1963. This legislation established statutory recognition for condominiums under Chapter 711.

The first condominium in Palm Beach County is located at 400 South Ocean Boulevard in Palm Beach and was established in 1963. This project became a condominium out of necessity. A group of investors had a 64-unit rental property with hotel amenities proposed and to be opened for the 1963-1964 season. Due to political issues and the assassination of President Kennedy, an economic downturn occurred and they opted to create a condominium complex.

Some of the earliest condominium projects were Century Village in West Palm Beach which began development in 1968 and continued build out until 1974 followed by Century Village in Boca Raton which opened in 1979. Kings Point in Delray Beach was built between 1973 and 1985.

Condominium legislation was rewritten and enacted in 1976. It replaced Chapter 711 with Chapter 718 which is used today. Current condominium law is bulky and cumbersome for some residents and community leaders and yearly legislative sessions continue to propose amendments to the law attempting to correct previously written rules or address new issues that face owners and the public. Real estate and property law recognize condominiums as “creatures of statute” or “creatures of legislation,’ so these regulations are necessary for Floridians to continue to enjoy home ownership and shared amenities in the condominium lifestyle.
